MEMORANDUM FOR: Morning Meeting Participants

SUBJECT: Office of Legislative Counsel as Focal Point for Congressional Matters

1. There have been a number of Hill contacts with Agency offices and personnel which have not funneled through this office over the past year as a result of the activities of the Select Committees, the ginning up of new congressional bodies such as the Congressional Budget Office and committees, the Office of Technological Assessment, and the widespread interest on the Hill on substantive intelligence information.

2. Now that things are settling down, I think it would be helpful if you would remind your people that the Director expects this office to be the focal point for monitoring our relationships with the Hill as set forth in [redacted] Pending the complete wind down of the activities of the Select Committees, I realize that the Review Staff and the Special Counsel to the Director are in special situations.
